Course Purpose/Description: This course will assist teachers in understanding not only the importance of assessment in physical education, but the multiple types of assessments that are important to a program. Assessment is essential to show student growth, but more importantly to have evidence for stakeholders to evaluate in order to continue to develop a quality physical education program. This course will discuss formative assessment and summative assessment concepts. By the end of this course, teachers will be able to create a variety of assessment tools as well as implement assessment strategies in their classroom. Teachers will realize that assessment is the root of a quality physical education program and must be considered during every physical education class regardless of the grade level.

Benefits:

- Flexibility - Complete assignments at your own pace during the week
- Earn college graduate credit from the comfort of your own home
